A Dragon's Cry

Here is another poem I made! I think this one is not so good but I'll let the readers think if it's good or not. ENJOY! **

A Dragon's Cry **

In the darkness of night

Above the moons shining light

Soundless wings high above

Searching for his love

He searched far and wide

He searched through endless time

And yet he couldn't find

The one who was in his mind

She was no where in sight

She was not in flight

With disbelief he cried

He cried till his eyes went dry

Years went by

And still he cried

For he never found

The one who was in his mind

Good? Bad? Let Me Know

End
